

FORD HALL FORUM AT SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY, WGBH FORUM NETWORK, THE COMMUNICATION, JOURNALISM, & MEDIA AND WORLD LANGUAGES & CULTURAL STUDIES DEPARTMENTS, THE WOMEN'S AND GENDER STUDIES PROGRAM AND THE GLOBAL AND CULTURAL STUDIES PROGRAM AT SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY PRESENT

A Virtual Three-Week Storytelling Series Beyond Borders: Women's Stories and the Art of Bearing Witness

Join us in October as four fascinating storytellers talk to three Suffolk University professors via Zoom. Laura Levitt, professor, Religion, Jewish Studies and Gender, Temple University, Alba Jaramillo, executive director, Arizona Justice For Our Neighbors and nationally recognized human rights and social justice advocate, Patricia Davis, noted author, poet, and playwright, and Phoebe Potts, director, Family Learning, Sylvia Cohen Religious School, memoirist and comic. These four captivating women will share their work, which bears witness to struggles about human rights, memory, belonging, and love.

THIS EVENT IS FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC.

The Objects That Remain is Laura Levitt's memoir and fascinating examination of the ways in which the material remains of violent crimes inform our thinking about trauma and loss. Considering artifacts in the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum and evidence in police storage facilities across the country, Levitt's story moves between intimate trauma, the story of an unsolved rape, and genocide. She asks what it might mean to do justice to these violent pasts outside the justice system or through historical accounts. The evening's moderator is Barbara Abrams, associate professor, World Languages & Cultural Studies Department and director, Global and Cultural Studies Program, Suffolk University.
